

PERIMETER PEST CONTROL

By making your home comfortable, you also make it attractive to insects searching for a pleasant place to live. Insects can enter through open doors or holes in window screens, while even more come through untreated openings that you don't even think about. With a barrier treatment of your home's perimeter, we can help protect against an indoor insect invasion.

Prevention is the Key

Our licensed professionals can keep insects outside where they belong. With our prevention program, regularly scheduled applications throughout the year will stop creepy, crawly insect problems before they start. Plus, exterior perimeter treatments made outdoors will reduce or eliminate the need for indoor applications. This means no pesticides inside your home! Keep those pesky insects at bay by calling to schedule your perimeter pest treatments today.
